

An aerial night photograph of the Marquette University campus in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The image shows several large, multi-story brick and stone buildings with illuminated windows. A prominent feature is a large, modern building with a blue roof. In the background, the city skyline of Milwaukee is visible, including the iconic Christ the King Cathedral with its tall spire. The sky is a deep blue, and the city lights create a warm glow. The foreground shows a well-maintained green lawn with a paved walkway.
